

Bring-your-pet-to-school Day

is on a roll in Tin Ling!

After reading the book 'There's a SNAKE in my SCHOOL' from a renowned children's literature writer David Walliams, students created their personalized cardboard pets in the school-based experiential learning lessons.

All primary students enjoyed designing and creating their pets by making use of the cardboard boxes. They brought their collected recycling materials and applied the mathematical knowledge in 3D dimensional objects to design their own pets.

All primary 3 students gathered to have the party with their cardboard pets on the Bring-your-pet-to-school Day. They introduced their pets to their schoolmates and had fun with them.

Spark Your Creativity

Ignite Your Possibility

Start Here!